To whom so ever it may concern

It is certified that in the 7th Academic Council of the institute it was decided to follow the Maharaja Ranjit Singh Punjab Technical University, grading system. As per the Maharaja Ranjit Singh Punjab Technical University, Choice Based Credit System-2016 (Sr. no. 12(b) & 16), in relative and absolute grading system the percentage of marks can be calculated as $CGPA \times 10.0$. Therefore, the institute is following a multiplier factor of 10.0 to calculate the % age of marks from CGPA i.e $CGPA \times 10.0 = \% \text{ age marks for 2015, 16 and 17 batch students.}$
